PROJECTS

FUTURE WELL: MULTI-DISEASE RISK PREDICTION

Developed an ML pipeline to predict diseases based on patient symptoms using classification algorithms. Designed a Django web application with a clean, user-friendly interface for real-time predictions. Implemented six disease modules, including Heart Disease, Diabetes, Lung Disease, Liver Disease, Chronic Kidney Disease, and a comprehensive multi-symptom predictor (covering 50+ symptoms). Integrated doctor chat and appointment booking features, along with automated prediction certificates sent via email (10+ email services/messages) after each prediction. Achieved over 85% accuracy on test data, enhancing diagnostic support.

AGENTIC CARRER PLANNER (INPROGRESS)

The AI Career Planner is a smart application designed to guide students and early-career professionals in building personalized career roadmaps. It leverages agentic AI workflows to analyze user skills, interests, and goals, then generates tailored recommendations for learning paths, projects, and job readiness. Languages & Frameworks used React, JavaScript with SQLite.
